

Why Does US Advocacy Day Matter to an International Organization?

In the US federal legislation is often drafted based on the lobbying efforts of political interest groups. The more effective a particular group is in exerting pressure on one or more members of Congress, the more likely it is that change will take place in the development of US law. So it is important that members of International ACAC be involved!

What do you do on Advocacy Day? The agenda for the 2019 meeting may be found here.
